We apologize for having to omit so much stuff that should go in, but we, with short help, are forced sometimes to do —like yourself— the best we can under the circumstances.

Before the Board of Mayor and Aldermen secure permission to raise taxes as much as five mills, at its own discretion, it should take the citizens into its confidence and tell them what it wants to do with the extra money, and, further, if it can not cut expenses so that the millage will remain the same or, better still, be reduced. The readers' attention is invited to a letter published hereon from Mr. Ray of the Trust Bank, a letter that contains much food for thought.

What with extremely high federal taxes, local taxes MUST be kept at the same level, or lowered, else the people will be bankrupt.

Like Mr. Ray, I do not wish to antagonize the Board, but I do think that some awful good reasons should be given before the Board is permitted to raise taxes five mills.

The fundamental reason that the City wishes to raise taxes, of course, is that it is spending more than it takes in, a practice that will break any person or any institution.

It should in fairness be said that the City and the County are the very last last to receive any benefit from the boom in which this community finds itself.

The City's debt has been increasing while the County's debt has been decreasing in about the same proportion. If the City's financial matters can not be handled more advantageously, it might be well for Grenada, likeElliott, to give up its Charter, and be run by the Board of Supervisors.

It is somewhat of a secret, but the gossip is that, while the State of Mississippi as a whole and the United States are hitting way behind in their respective bond quotas the county of Grenada has attained if not passed its goal. According to the last official figures seen by me, NO county in the State had done as well as Grenada county.

On the whole the civil officers and the MP's working in harmony have done a splendid job of policing this community, as, so far, few crimes have been committed.

With pleasure, we add the name of Mrs. W. E. Sprnill to our mailing list. While speaking of members of that family, we recently added one ofEd's boys in Durant.

USO-NCCS Had Open House Sunday Afternoon

The USO Club at 421 Main Street operated by the National Catholic Community Service, Women's Division held the opening program Sunday at 4 o'clock, September 19, 1943.

The audience, composed of military and civilian personnel had the pleasure of hearing several speakers of note and the 381st Air Force Band conducted by Master Sgt. John Swek.

Chaplain Ernest G. Overton of the Division Artillery, 87th Division gave the Invocation.

The Most Rev. R. O. Gerow, D. D. Bishop of Natchez, delivered an inspiring address, mentioning the difference between our Government and a totalitarian state.

Colonel Ira E. Ryder, Commander of Camp McCain, extended greetings to the USO Women's Division.

1st Sgt. Caroline Kernz, expressed the appreciation of the WAC Detachment from McCain for a Women's Division USO in which the women of the army could find recreation of various kinds.

Mrs. B. C. Cherniak, an Army wife thanked the people of Grenada and the USO for giving the army wives such a lovely place to which they could come.

The WAC 806 Company Army Air Field was represented by Sgt. Myrtle Fox who axpressed the appreciatoin for not only herself but for the other members of the WAC at the Air Field.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. L. Robinson of the Methodist Church.

Judge A. M. Carothers served as Master of Ceremonies for the entire program.

After the program of addresses and musical selections, open house was held inside the building. Refreshments were served by the following committee: Misses Josephine Barranco, Anna L. O'Kernirt, Mabel Thompson, Sara Cohen, Eve Becker, and Amy Cauley, and Mesdames Vince Barranco, Sam Barranco, John Karpeles, John Swek and nJck Gresham.

The Recreation committee assisted in showing people over the building. The mebers of thuis committee were Mesdames L. D. Boone, L. J. Doak, A. M. Carothers, Sam McCorkle, Jack Hodgkins, Mollie McLeod and Fannie Morrison.

The committee of boys who assisted at the program were Billy Parham, Charles McKnight, and J. D. Harper.

Music Surrounds McCain's Open Air Theatre

Music will surround Camp McCain's new Open Air Theatre the night of September 28 at 8:00 p. m., when the 87th Infantry Division band presents to the soldiers and the public, which is invited to attend, a concert of classical music under the capable directing baten of Chief Warrant Officer Guy Taylor former conductor of the Birmingham, Alabama, NYA Symphony and a former student under Dimitri Mitropeulos, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony.

Division Concert Band will offer a selection of world famous and loved musical scores ranging from Tschaikowsky's "1812" Overtue, Saint Sains French Military March, Gliere's Russian Sailors' Dance, from "The Red Poppy", to Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue and excerpts from "Pergy and Bess."

One of the highlights of the musical evening will be the performance of three talented soloists, Staff Sgt. Ernest Harsey, leader of the Division Dance orchestra and former clarinetist in the Gus Arnheim, Abe Lyman and Eddie Dunsteder bands, will play Weldoeft's exquisite Danse Hongrise on his saxaphone. Cpl. Jules Yanover, who was a first violinist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra prior to his induction into the army, will thrill his listeners with his rendition of Daquin's The Cuckoo and Sgt. William Lehman will perform on the piano with Gershwin's haunting Rhapsody in Blue.

The band which has been functioning as a unit for only several months is composed of sixty members and boasts of musicians from some of the nation's top-flight concert and dance orchestras.

A special feature will be the colorful scenery built and painted for the occasion under the direction of Pvt. Avritt L. Brown who was assisted by Pvt. Grose Evans, Cpl. Douglas Moore, Pfc. Sidney Rothberg and Sgt. William L. Miller. "The entire event", according to Capt. Eli J. Paris, whose Special Service Office is responsible for the program, "is one of the most outstanding concerts ever held in the State of Mississippi."

If Green will not put up a gold star for Tom Neely, he should at least have an empty chair there like Roosevelt, Chamberlain and King did at Quebec for Stalin.

Landowners Led By Hon Ike Stone Protest Dam Building

On Saturday in Grenada a group of about 200 landowners whose property will be confiscated in the event that the proposed dam across the Yalobusha River a few miles upstream from Grenada, met at the instance of Hon. Ike Stone, of Coffeeville—long a vigorous opponent of the proposal—and heard Mr. Stone and others urge all landowners in the affected area to refrain from signing any option, lease or contract with the federal government.

Mr. Stone stated that 78,000 acres of river bottom land in Grenada, Yalobusha, Calhoun and Webster counties would be needed by the government; that 22,000 people in that area would have to be evacuated and that the dam would benefit only 40,000 persons in the Yazoo-Mississippi delta from Yazoo county to the Mississippi-Tennessee line.

Congressman Tom Abernethy could not be present but wired that he was unterribly opposed to the building of the dam.

Several landowners advised that, in the event any of their neighbors were favorable to the signing of any options, those opposed buy the former's holdings.

GREY LADIES ATTENTION!

Grey Ladies Unit will meet at the Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon, September 27th at two o'clock.

Just For Fun

Our "Air Base Annie" is now blossoming into Miss Anderson, of Camp McCain. This little Grenada Miss is now dating a bit at Camp and is it rumored that one winged-Sergeant isn't going to like the change. No more Coffeeville, Annie?

And we heard that one Lt. Boyle, usually concerned with ledger figures, was out at one of the plantation homes about eight miles outside of Grenada this Monday night.

Grenada is an attraction to quite a few of the young bachelors, and those not so young, and not bachelor, but quite a few of the Army went out to town this week end.

Mrs. Miller, known as "Marie" at the Post Engineers at the Air Field, and her husband, a Corporal in the Field Artillery at Camp McCain, went to Greenwood to see the Delta. Mrs. Merphy, of Grenada, was their charming guide.

Lorraine Van Deldon, of Camp McCain, spent the weekend at her home It is strongly rumored that she may be buying several dresses extr this season, and not for work. She is scheduled to be "Mrs. Lt. Paul" sometime early in October, we hear. He's from Camp McCain, and we'll give you the details early in October. She lives at the Dogan home in Grenada, you know.

Mrs. Davis of Mound Street, Grenada, went to Memphis this week end. She usually spends her Saturdays keeping the Sub-Depot in order, but this time she concentrated on shoes and such.

We haven't heard whether Bob-love-em-all Marquette went to Jackson again, or not, or whether he had one of the girls from Washington State drop in for a week end, but he was a little quiet anyway.

Lt. Gautier, of Maine and the 346th of McCain, really achieved a victory greater than any in the Pacific. All by himself, this Saturday night, right out at Camp. Fannie, the famed monkey belonging to Lt. Miner, has been laying the law down to "Gouchie" ever since they both arrived in the peaceful southland. So Saturday Gouchie, slightly fortifide with liquid ammunition, and backed by the home front, laid the law down to Fannie. She even lay down at his feet. It les whispen lay down at his feet. It is whispging to be granted a purple heart for that conspicuous bravery.

After the way that the over-thirty fives are beating the "youngsters" out at the Air Base in the Officers' ball games, it is rumored that Congress is considering drafting only those over thirty. The Colonels Bennett and Wise are the stars, it seems, with very able support. (They paid us not to mention their names.)

The Red Coats are Coming could be the new war cry of the QM cuties for nearly every gal there sports a fire colored reefer. Louise Hyer is one of the most consistent wearers of the color, with every other QMite a close second!

Lt. Snider, that versatile Post Engineer assistant, is heading back to the blue-grass country come this Friday. The last time he visited Kentucky, he "repaired" the water system around Shelbyville, and the good inhabitants of that town have sent for him to come and stop the flood, it is rumored! That water diet is the best thing. Estes Snider has decided.

Auction Sale Last Thursday

Thursday evening of last week, the Woman's Division of sales of Bonds and Stamps, under the able direction of Woman's Chairman, Mrs. E. L. Wilkins, sponsored an auction sale of bonds and stamps at the gymnasium of Grenada High School.

The Orchestra from 87th Division, Camp McCain, furnished a program of music throughout the evening, and bonds were bid up into the thousands by Grenadians whose extra rewards came from a large collection of prizes. Mrs. Wilkins welcomed the crowd and thanked the officers and musicians from Camp McCain for their cooperation. Mrs. Wilkins introduced Mrs. H. A. Alexander, who in turn introduced Capt. Eli Paris, Special Service Officer of 87th Division, Lt. Col. L. R. Cavtorr, and Sgt. Behm: the orchestra leader, whose name we failed to secure and the auctioneer, Sgt. Sid Saul.

We were requested not to print the names of citizens purchasing bonds, or the amount each purchased, however, this article would be more interesting if we had not been so requested, and could tell you who has a registered pig and who has a $55 watch. About $17,000.00 worth of 3rd War Loan Bonds were sold and prizes awarded into hundreds of dollars were given away. These prizes were contributed by business men and women and by farmer and several firms. Mrs. J. M. Talbert and Mrs. Ernestine Martin collected the prizes.

To make this tale complete, we will state that the crowd was disappointingly small.

Lieutenant Bert Johnston "Missing"

Lt. Bert Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erle Johnston, Sr., now of Gulfport, but formerly of Grenada, has been reported as "missing in action" by the War Department. He was a Navigator on a flying fortress and has been engaged in raids in the European theatre of operations.

The date of his last flight was September 6 when he participated in the raid on the Roumanian oil fileds. He is a graduate of GHS. His parents live in Gulfport, while his only brother is in Scott county.

Lt. Earl E. L... Killed In Crash Saturday

Lt. Earl E. Litten, member of the Army Air Corps, was killed in a crash last Saturday, September 18, 1943 near Murco, California.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Litten, of Grenada, and was born here November 23, 1920. He was a graduate of GHS. He left here with the original "home company", commanded by Captain Jim Shaw in December, 1940, went to Camp Blanding, and afterwards transferred to the Air Corps. He received his commission as Second Lieutenant just a few weeks ago.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church, of which he was a member, when the body arrives. The time of arrival of the body is as yet unknown. Rev. Glen E. Wiley will officiate. Names of the pallbearers have not been made known.

Surviving him are his parents; four brothers, Charlie, Ralph, E. C. and Lawrence, the first three of whom are in the armed services; three sisters, Mrs. Vera Kilgore and Misses Annie and Fredoria Litten, of Grenada; and his grandfather, Mr. J. T. Conner.

Thus the list of Grenada's fine young men who have given their all lengthens

Woman's Division 3rd War Loan Campaign

The Woman's drive to sell 3rd War Loan Bonds continues at the booth located on the corner of Grenada Bank Building.

The report for the week ending Wednesday, September 22 is good, the ladies having sold a total for the week of $31,846.75 bonds.

Woman's Division, 3rd War Loan Drive.

USO Extends Facilities At Legion Building

The building known as the American Legion Hut on Mound Street is now being used as additional space for USO operations at the Community House. It will continue to hold oices and carry on activities involving small groups in the Community House, but larger activities, especially dances will be conducted at the Legion building.

The USO has made some renovations at the Legion building. The bleachers have been removed, floors sanded and waxed, ladies powder room added, paint job in rest rooms. The new furniture placed in the quiet room and social hall made a very attractive setting for opening program last Saturday night. The USO girls, hostesses and service men expressed delight over such added facility, to be used until such time the FSA completes renovation on Main Street building.

Grenada County School Teachers Listed

The teachers in the county schools have been elected and have started a new school year.

Mrs. Geneva McNulty is the teacher at Kirkman school.

TO PATRONS OF THE U. S. POST OFFICE OF GRENADA, MISS.

On and after October 1, 1943, in compliance with regulations, prescribed, the money order windows will observe the following schedule: daily, excepting Sundays and holidays, open 9:00 o'clock a. m. close 5:00 o'clock p. m.

The hours of business of the postal savings depository will be the same as those of the money order section.

No other changes in business hours at this post office.

According to recent official reports, Grenada county has more nearly met its bond quota than any county in the State.

Aint they sweet.

Mr. Ray Invites Attention To City Charter Change

In this week's issue of the County paper, you will notice two resolutions adopted by the Board of Aldermen, to permit them to change the City Charter again, so as to permit a Bond issue of $25,000.00 and also for another raise in the advalorem tax of FIVE MILLS, in this last proposition, the privilege is given the board to spend this money in any way they see fit.

No one knows anything about "SPECIAL CHARTER" of the City, but the City Attorney. As many as four Aldermen can vote and change our Special Charter and take away all privileges from its Citizens or force them to get a petition signed by ten to twenty percent of the qualified electors, protesting, and asking for an election. Our Charter calls for such elections in the very instances the board is now trying to pass without having an election; if they feel the majority of the tax payers want these changes, why be afraid to submit such propositions to the people for a voice.

Just about two years ago this same proposition was put over by the Board, even after the required number of tax payers who were qualified electors presented a petition of protest and asked for an election; a substantial raise was put on by the Board.

I am not trying to antagonize the Board, and they all know this was my open stand the few months I was a member of the body, and they know the number of times I voted no against appropriations, when the City had no money to pay for it.

The budget was adopted when I was on the Board that would have stayed within the income of the City; the unbalanced budget is due partly to groups of Citizens appearing before the Board asking for all kinds of donations for different objects that they are interested in, without thinking of the City's ability to meet such donations, and also due to the Aldermen not having the backbone to say no to some of our best Citizens. This is not the Alderman's money but the Tax Payers' money who have to pay the bills.

I appreciate the expressions given me by petitions while I was on the Board before I went on, and merely calling attention to the very things that I fought a losing fight for, and think the Citizens should know just what the Bond issue is to be spent for and just what the five mill levy is needed for, and let them have a voice as to whether they want such expenditures.

Congratulations to the County Officials, who have reduced the tax rate in the City of Grenada in the last several years four mills.

Very respectfully,
H. J. RAY.

"Pass In Review" Last Saturday

At the command, "pass in review" and to the strains of martial music from from 346th Infantry band, the units of the 87th Infantry Division marched before their own General Clarkson and their corps commander, General White, last Saturday morning. The commander of Division Artillery, General Barkalow, was in command of the marching units while the Division Commander and the Corps Commander each with his staff, occupied the reviewing stand. As the review was in progress, the small observation planes attached to the artillery flew overhead. Quite a number of citizens witnessed the scene from the side lines.

As usual, all of the stray dogs in the country were on hand to enjoy the scene. Dogs always like a peerade.

Edward C. Walthall

That this new generation may know what type of man was Senator (Gen. Edward Cary) Walthall, I am inclosing an excerpt from The Life of John Sharp Williams; "In speaking of the Eulogy delivered in the House, Feb. 25, 1890, soon after the death of his friend, comrade, and fellow Mississippian, Edward C. Walthall, Senator Hoar wrote that Williams 'described the Southern gentleman of our time in a sentence which deserves to stand by the side of Chaucer's. The ideal gentleman was always honest; spoke the truth; faced the enemy, fought him if necessary; never quarreled with him nor talked about him; rode well; shot well; used chaste and correct English; insulted no man—bore no insult from any; was studiously kind to his inferiors, especially to his slaves; cordially hospitable to his equals; courteous to his superiors, if he acknowledged any; scorned a demagogue; and loved his people, but held it mean to prefer any class or individual interest (most of all his own) to that of the masses of his countrymen'."

Such was Grenada's grandest, most outstanding citizen.—Contributed.

ISRAEL'S SIN AND RESTORATION

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 32:7-10; 34:4-9, 27, 28.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is long-suffering and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression.—Numbers 14:18.

God is righteous, and cannot look with approval or in forgiveness upon sin until His mercy has been stirred and set free to act by repentance. Then He whose wrath is hotly kindled against man's transgression shows Himself as the tender and gracious God, "keeping loving-kindness for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin."

This grace of God is fully revealed in Christ and the redemption which He brought to man, but is prefigured in the experiences of Israel under the law.

I. God's Wrath Kindled (Exod. 32:7-10).

There are those who would have us think of God as a benevolent old gentleman who is easily hoodwinked by clever sinners who can talk fast to cover their iniquity. Even if He does see it, He is supposed to be so tenderhearted that He overlooks their sin.

Such folk had better read these words, "That my wrath may wax hot." The wrath of God is a real and awful affection of the divine nature and it is revealed against man who sins against His holy law.

The special sin of Israel on this occasion was idolatry, which is the setting up of some material symbol to represent the invisible God. Moses had been with God in the mount for 40 days. He had been the Lord's representative in their midst. His presence had evidently been the chief stabilizing influence.

Having their eyes set on a man, or a material object to take His place, they had lost sight of the invisible God. So they proceeded to establish this idol which would provide a center of worship. At first it was evidently intended to remind them of God, but soon it led them out into heathen revelry (Exod. 32: 6, 17, 18).

Whatever a man puts between himself and God, even though he may at first intend it to be but a reminder of God, will lead him away from God. Ritual, symbols, theology, scholarship, all good in their places, may become the idols which separate present-day man from God.

II. God's Mercy Invited (Exod. 34:4-9).

Aaron had only a weak "alibi" to offer. The golden calf had practically made itself (see Exod. 32: 24). How quick man is to justify himself instead of admitting his guilt. No doubt our excuses sound just as silly as Aaron's in the ears of God.

Moses knew better. The sin was dealt with in drastic fashion. When one deals with a wild ravenous beast, there is one remedy—"shoot to kill." Not only were the leaders of the wickedness slain, but the ground gold of the calf image was put into water, which all Israel drank. Thus were they all marked as sharing the guilt of this idolatry.

There is a lesson here for us. America is far from God. We need to seek His face in repentance. But let us remember that we (that is, Christian men and women) are a part of America. It is our guilt, and we ought to be on our faces before God, pleading for God's mercy upon our land.

Moses was now ready to seek the Lord's mercy for his wayward people. He is the intercessor, the intermediary. God had a man who had compassion and love in his heart, and the Lord heard him. Loving-kindness and tender mercy flowed forth in place of flaming anger.

Note that God has not changed. He is the unchangeable One. His wrath is still hot against man's sin, but man has repented, and moved out of God's wrath into His love and grace. That too is always being shown to His obedient children.

III. God's Covenant Renewed (Exod. 34:27, 28).

Moses had broken the first tablets of commandments. The people had sinned and were not then ready to listen to any word from Jehovah. But now they were prepared to receive it, and God renewed the covenant as He again gave Moses the law.

There is no need for despair in the heart of the one who deals with God. The missed opportunity for obedience and blessing may be gone forever, but God is still on the giving hand ready to meet the returning prodigal, ready to give beauty for ashes (Isa. 61:3) and to restore the years that the locust has destroyed (Joel 2:25). Amazing grace!

In the keeping of these commandments, Israel was assured of the blessing of God. As we pointed out last week, the real fulfillment of the law came in Jesus Christ, who did not set aside its requirements, but met them all, for all who believe in His name.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

It did have a bearing on rubber use—the close to 24 billion gallons of gasoline used by highway vehicles in 1941. California led the states with a mark on the edge of 2 billion gallons. These are numbers for the "A" card holder to conjure with.

Tires for our fighting aircraft consume from 35 to 75 pounds of rubber, depending on the size of the plane. Inner tubes take from 24 to 54½ pounds.

At a rubber plantation in Haiti, a 75-foot tree was pulled to the ground by the weight of cryptostegia vines which had fought one another to climb it.

ON THE HOME FRONT
with RUTH WYETH SPEARS

EVERY homemaker knows how many steps could be saved if table linens could have a special closet in the kitchen or pantry. In one home that we know of space for such a closet was going to waste all because cupboard doors or drawers would interfere with the door shown here in the small sketch. At the right you see how that space became an efficient linen closet complete even to a smart laundry bag.

The high compartment has a door of plywood. Below this are shelves with a curtain on a shade roller. The curtain runs up and down between the shelves at the left.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears has prepared a large sheet giving complete working sketches for making this closet and the laundry bag. All dimensions are given and step-by-step directions are illustrated. An itemized list of all materials and fittings is included. Ask for Design No. 256 and enclose 15 cents. Address:

$5,000-Acre Oasis

The Kufra Oases in the heart of the Libyan desert are among the world's most fertile spots, says Collier's. Consisting of five cities with thousands of inhabitants, they contain more than 1,500,000 trees, at least 1,000,000 more of which are date palms standing on land valued as high as $5,000 an acre.

ASK ME ANOTHER?
A General Quiz

1. What was the most important naval battle of World War I?
2. What was the population of this country when Washington was President?
3. What is the approximate cost of training a U. S. pilot?
4. If it is 7 p. m. in New York, what time is it in San Francisco?
5. What is the average length of time spent by an American soldier at his meals?
6. What is the scuttle butt on a ship?
7. What is the largest army hospital in the United States?
8. What food crop exceeds all others in the world in tonnage production?
9. What is vellum?
10. How long does it take an American submarine to submerge?

The Answers

1. Jutland.
2. The population was 3,929,000.
3. For a trained pilot, $27,000.
4. It is 4 p. m.
5. The average length of time spent by an American soldier at his meals is 18 minutes at breakfast, 19 at dinner, and 17 at supper.
6. A drinking fountain.
7. The Holleran General hospital on Staten Island occupying 383 acres, with 43 brick buildings, including auditorium, recreation hall, mess buildings and garages.
8. Potato.
9. A fine variety of parchment.
10. American submarines, when on the alert on the surface, can submerge entirely in 40 seconds, during which time the ballast tanks have to be opened and partly filled, the conning tower closed and all power connections switched over from the Diesel engines to the electric motors.

When the word went out that soldiers overseas wanted packages from home—the response was so overwhelming that Uncle Sam reluctantly had to call a halt. Today, due to shipping space, there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men—but you can still send packages to soldiers in the U. S., and to Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen wherever they are. When you do, remember—one of their favorite gifts is cigarettes, and the favorite brand is Camel. Sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens show that Camel is first choice with men in all the services. So send him that carton of Camels today.—Adv.

Our Steel Consumption

The United States has consumed 1,900 million tons of iron and steel since 1854, when the records were first started. Of this amount, 1,400 million tons are believed to be still giving service in their original form in buildings, bridges, engines, machinery, pipes, tools and scores of other articles.

NO SUGAR NEEDED IN EASY-TO-MAKE ALL-BRAN MUFFINS

Here's an already favored recipe that's gaining new wartime fame . . . ALL-BRAN Muffins without sugar! See for yourself how the flavorsome crispness of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN gives these delicious muffins a texture and taste all their own!

Kellogg's All-Bran Muffins

2 tablespoons shortening	½ cup milk
⅓ cup corn syrup	1 cup flour
1 egg	¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran	2½ teaspoons baking powder

Cream shortening and corn syrup thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk, let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 8 large muffins, 3 inches in diameter, or 12 small muffins, 2¼ inches in diameter.

SOCIETY

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

The lovely home of Mrs. Andrew Carothers was thrown open to members of the Twentieth Century Club Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. Mrs. E. L. Marders was co-hostess.

The attractively arranged living room which features many lovely antiques was further enhanced by the placing of boquets on occasional tables. One arrangements of flowers was of pink gladiolia and this lovely arrangement was reflected in a slender mirror. Placed near the "president's" chair, a large arrangement of scarlet hued spider lilies interspersed with ferns, excited one's admiration.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. E. B. Provine presided. Mrs. Marders read the minutes from last meeting and reports were made by the recording secretary, Mrs. E. A. Penn, and by the treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Prose. An invitation to visit the library on Sunday afternoon, 3 to 6, September 26, to see the John Nabors Rundle Memorial shelf of books, was read by Mrs. Penn.

Miss Elizabeth Jones, librarian, and newly elected honorary member of the club reviewed "Mother Russia", presenting an open and frank picture of the problems of one of our great allies. Mrs. W. L. Robinson interestingly reviwed Cadwell's book, "All Night Long", which told of the guerrilla night fighting by Russian patriots.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. C. Prose.

Following the program the hostesses served a beautiful plate containing chicken salad on lettuce, olives, wafers, chocolate fingers and hot coffee.

VISITORS FETED

The charming living room at the home of Mrs. R. F. Matthews was the scene of a happy occasion on Wednesday afternoon last when the daughter of the home, Mrs. Frank Horton, entertained in honor of her sister, Mrs. Hurd Horton, Jr., who was visiting here last week.

Two tables were arranged for games of Rummy and at the conclusion of the afternoon's games, Mrs. Travis Allison received high score prize and Mrs. H. D. Lane, Jr., received consolation.

The hostess served delctable Iced Coca-Cola and assorted canapes, thin sandwiches and other delightful titbits. The guest list included the honoree, Mrs. Hurd Horton, Jr., Mesdames Linden Wright, H. D. Lane, Jr., J. H. Neely, Jr., Jack Townes, George McMurray, and Travis Allison.

Mrs. Hurd Horton, Jr., left for her home in Tuscaloosa, Ala., on Sunday.

LUNCHEON

On Tuesday Miss Lillian York entertained Misses Barbara Ames and Ann Ross, of Washington, D. C. and Miss Mary Lou Cullen, of Grenada at a small luncheon.

Mrs. Roy B. Gratham has arrived home from Camp Swift, Texas for a two months visit with relatives. While her husband, Sgt. Grantham is on maneuvers in Louisiana.

Mrs. T. H. Meek who has spent the summer at Waynesville, N. C. returned home last week.

Capt. and Mrs. Jack Martin, of Baton Rouge, La., are the proud parents of a little son, born Monday September 20, 1943. Capt. Martin is the son of Mrs. Ernestine Martin and the late Mr. John Martin, of Grenada county.

Mrs. Roy Edmondson, nee Miss Dorothy Sewell, has returned to Texas after visiting home folks in Grenada.

Mrs. W. D. Riley, of Chicago, who came down especially to get her young son, who has visited his aunts here for two months, has returned home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Blaylock.

Mrs. Vassar Dubard is visiting in the home of her son, William, who is instructor in Radio Mechanics Army Air Corps, at Madison, Wis. Mrs. Dugard accompanied her little grandson home, and will be there for a two weeks' visit.

Among those students leaving this week to enter college include Miss Louise Avent and Dorothy Tulbert, Sophs. at Ole Miss, Misses Lillian York, Mary Lou Cullen, Elizabeth McGahey, and Mary Ethel Scott to M. S. C. W; Marjory Chapman to Belhaven College, Dorothy Whitaker, senior at University of Missouri.

Mrs. S. H. Horton, Jr., returned to her home in Alabama to reside with her parents while her husband, Lt. Horton, is in foreign service.

ALL SAINTS EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY

All Saints Episcopal Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. L. J. Doak on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A good attendance was present.

Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, president, presided. Mrs. S. A. Weir, devotional chairman, led the prayers and Mrs. W. J. Sherwood, secretary gave the minutes of last meeting. Business discussions and plans for next year's Auxiliary programs held the interest of the members. Meeting closed with benediction.

W. S. OF C. S.

On Monday afternoon the Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church for its regular monthly program meeting. A good attendance was reported. Mrs. L. T. Forbes, leader presented the afternoon's program on "Christian Task in Cuba and Porto Rica." Assisting Mrs. Forbes were Mesdames Wade Stokes, A. B. Bryant, Glen Thomason and S. B. Griffis. The program was made most interesting by displayed articles, beads, woven hats and baskets from the islands.

Next Monday the W. S. of C. S. will meet in the following members homes: Circle No. 1, Mrs. Wade Stokes; Circle No. 2, Mrs. J. H. Murray; Circle No. 3, Mrs. Fred White; Circle No. 4, Mrs. R. A. Clanton.

PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

Members of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met at the church on Monday afternoon for the monthly Survey Program. Miss Jane Young led the devotional. Mrs. B. C. Adams was in charge of the program and was assisted by Mrs. J. L. Cooley, Jr., Mrs. H. D. Lane, Sr., and Mrs. Cowles Horton.

WESLEYAN GUILD MET MONDAY NIGHT

The Wesleyan Service Guild with Mrs. J. F. Matthews leader held its first regular meeting since May on Monday evening at 6:30. Supper was served the women by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. During the social hour the new members, Miss Maye Evelyn Doggett and Mrs. Carren Blythe, were welcomed.

After supper Miss Lucile Pierce, program chairman, presented a program on the work of Methodist women among the Mexicans and Indians in the United States.

Plans for inviting the WAC's to come to Guild meetings were made. After the short business session, the meeting adjourned.

Mr. Fred W. Turner, from Hamilton Field, California, and his friend, Miss Eleanor Quinn, of Washington, D. C. are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Turner for a few days. Fred is the youngest son of the family and is in the Air Corps. Miss Quinn is a friend of the family and Fred's girl friend.

Mrs. E. R. Proudfit visited relatives in Memphis last week.

USO DANCE AT LEGION BUILDING

The American Legion Building was opened for USO activities Saturday night, and was the scene of a very lovely dance for service men. USO girls and senior hostesses were attractive in fall formals. Music for the dance was furnished by the 381st Air Force Orchestra. American Legion volunteers served cold drinks at the snack bar throughout the evening. The official chaperons for the evening were Mrs. Cullen and Mrs. Betz, along with a number of other senior hostesses.

THE JOHN NABERS RUNDLE MEMORIAL BOOKS ON EXHIBIT

Grenada County Library invites the public to an exhibit of the first installment of the John Nabers Rundle Memorial books on Sunday, September 26, 1943 from three to six o'clock. These books were made possible through the generosity of friends as a lasting tribute to a fine and promising young citizen who gave his all for his country. The general subject for the collection was: "Inspirational books for young people."

RABIES (HYDROPHOBIA)

On Wednesday, September 15th, a collie puppy was brought to the Grenada Veterinary Hospital by the owner, who resides at 51 Trailor Camp, because it had been acting strangely. The action of the animal caused me to be suspicious of rabies (hydrophobia) and on the following day my diagnosis was positive. Friday morning four officers (a physician and three veterinarians) from Camp McCain observed the animal and verified my diagnosis as did the Chief of Police, Mr. Willard Odom. Late in the day the animal died of the disease and the head was removed by the local health department for shipment to the State Health Department in Jackson.

Deep bites from a rabid animal are the most dangerous, especially on the unprotected parts of the body (hands and face). Wounds that bleed freely are less dangerous, as the blood washes the wound. The most dangerous bite seems to be those directly into a nerve or upon nerve tissue, whereas a bite on blood vessels or the lymphatic system is less so.

The period of incubation (time between bite or infection and first symptoms) lasts in the majority of cases from three to six weeks. In very rare cases the disease may appear in one week and some authorities claim 1 percent become affected within twenty-four hours after being bitten. The longest period of incubation has been recorded as 304 days. In the human race it is generally admitted that the period of incubation is seventy-two days.

There is absolutely no cure for rabies once the symptoms have appeared but the Pasteur treatment has proved very satisfactory when given promptly after exposure.

There are two forms of rabies—a furious and a dumb form. The furious is seen more frequently, and comprises three distinct stages—namely, melancholic, the stage of irritation and the paralytic stage.

In the melancholic stage, rabid animals are capricious and at other times irritable or depressed. They show symptoms of anger, are easily excited, fretful, change from one place to another, are easily frightened on the slightest cause or may become very affectionate. Frequently the animal will snap, as if they were catching flies, and, as a rule, will bite any animal that will come within their reach. The animal will frequently lick, rub or bite places where they had wounds before.

The irritable stage is characterized: 1 by a tendency to escape and run away; 2 by a great irritation and an inclination to bite animals, objects, or man; 3 by a strange alteration in the voice or bark (the sound of the bark is prolonged into a higher vocal sound so that it makes a combination between a howl and a bark).

The dumb form is distinguished from the furious form by the fact that the irritating or nervous symptoms are less marked or entirely absent, also the paralytic symptoms appear early in the disease. The saliva runs out of the open mouth and an inclination to bite is entirely absent. The voice is also changed, but it is rarely heard.

Death, as a rule, occurs in the fifth to seventh day after onset of the disease and in rare cases may last ten days.

Dr. L. E. Long,
Grenada Veterinary Hospital.

Greater Gore Spring

Mrs. Annie Tharpe, of Grenada, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Tucker Saturday night.

Mrs. C. A. Doolittle and Claudine spent Monday afternoon in Calhoun City.

W. L. Brewer, of Cascilla, spent the week end with Mrs. Brewer. Mrs. Brewer is a member of the school faculty and lives in the home of her parents, Mr. and rMs. Tommy Morman.

Gore Springs Sunday School officers for 1943-44 are: Supt. W. R. Martin; Assistant Supt. W. T. York; Sec'y-Treas. Mrs. D. M. Trusell; Pianist, Mrs. Hankins; Adult, W. T. York; Young People, J. C. Ray; Intermediate, Mrs. Sam Gillon; Primary, Mrs. J. C. Ray; Song leaders 4th quarter, Mary Tucker, 1st quarter, Thomas Gilon; 2nd quarter, Claudine Doolittle; 3rd quarter, Joy Gillon. The entire community needs Sunday School work. This is your invitation to attend. Time ten o'clock.

Roy and Alton Martin were Grenada visitors Friday afternoon.

Can you afford NOT to buy a Bond now? Gore Springs community must do her part in this 3rd War Loan Drive. Let each of us "Back the Attack."

New residents of the community are Mr. and rMs. F. F. McCrary, who live on Red Martin's farm.

GRENADA WINS OPENER BY DRUBBING HOLLY SPRINGS 38 TO 6

The Grenada Bulldogs opened the new grid season Friday night at Froby Field by romping over the Holly Springs Tigers to the tune of 38 to 6. Grenada scored at once in the last half, with Captain Buddy Avent tallying twice to lead his fellow backs in that department.

Co-captain Billy Harper opened the Bulldogs' scoring in the first quarter when he recovered a fumbue over the goal. Barranco skirted end for the extra point. Barranco took the ball thru the line in the second quarter to pay dirt, but Jones failed in his line lpunge for the extra point.

Holly Springs made their only score in the second period when a Grenada fumble gave the Tigers the ball deep in Bulldog territory. Smith caught a pass on the eight and sprinted over for six points. The kick for the extra point was blocked.

Avent scored twice in the third quarter, once on a 36 yard lope thru left tackle. The try for the point after Avent's first tally failed when Townes passed incomplete to Dinky Harper. Robinson drove for the point after Avent's second score.

Jones bucked the line for the first of Grenada's fourth period scores, and Robinson's pass to Spears for the extra point fell incomplete. Townes worked a fake reverse off left tackle for fifteen yards and the last tally. The try for the point failed.

Coach Hathorn substituted freely in the fourth quarter, many first year men getting into the game. The Bulldog line, led by Dogan, W. Moss and Spears, opened holes continually for the Grenada backs. Grenada outplayed the Tigers all around, making 17 first downs to 3 for the visitors.

GRENADA PLAYS NEXT HOME GAME OCTOBER 1.

The Grenada Bulldogs' second home game of the season will be played against Vardaman at Froby Field on Friday night, October at eight o'clock.

The Bulldogs defeated Holly Springs 38 to 6 in the first game. The home team appears to have a very effective running attack, which promises to develop as the season progresses.

The Bulldogs travel this Friday night to engage the Winona team at Winona.

BAND MAJORETTES

The band is very glad to have three new majorettes Rosemary Box, Mary Aldrich, and Jorene Jordan. We wish each one of them the best of luck and feel sure that they will do their best to make the band a big success this year. We also want to welcome back the old majorettes, Margaret Green and Margaret Ann McCorkle.

Everybody had a grand time at the auction of bonds at the school house last Thursday night.

Mr. Dewitt Beckum, of Central City, Ky., visited his father, Mr. J. M. Beckum and family here the past week end.

Major Waite, upon his return from a leave spent in his home in Jacksonville, brought the old lady with him.

Col. Henry Kahn, of Duck Hill has gone to Chester, Illinois, to spend a while with his relatives, the Steber family, but he will be back soon, as that is too far from Mike Conner.

In this harried and hurried community, our friends move away and we often never hear of it. For example, W. T. McKinney, erstwhile manager of Grenada Hotel, has joined the Seabees and his efficient wife is carrying on his, as well as her own work. Nell Feits, of Torrance has moved to the shipyards at Panama City, Fla.

IN MEMORY OF RUBEN DONLEY

In memory of our dear father, who departed this life and left us, this day ten years ago, Sept. 20th, 1933. We miss him so much that words cannot express our lonliness and sorrow. We miss you father, as though you had passed today. Sleep on dear father; God knew best. Your loss to us we feel was Heaven's gain.

His children,

Proposed Charter Changed

In a legal advertisement published elsewhere, the City Council proposes to change the City Charter as follows:

In addition to all other taxes leviable by it, the Board, at its own discretion, shall have the power and authority to levy and collect on all property taxable by this City a special tax not exceeding one-half of one percent on the value of such property for such particular purpose in any year which the Board may designate.

This leads me, as a citizen and as a taxpayer, to ask when we people of Grenada can expect a REDUCTION in taxation, instead of a steady increase?

This leads me, as a citizen and as a taxpayer, to ask why more economy is not practiced in the city government to prevent a constant increase in City expenditures?

This leads me, as a citizen and as a taxpayer, to ask if the writers of our Charter would recognize the instrument they made many years ago, with a constant series of changes in that instrument

I personally am opposed to increasing the millage in the City of Grenada and would be among the first of the ten percent of the citizens, necessary to call an election, to sign such a petition.

Last year I paid the City TWICE the amount of taxes on the SAME property as I paid the County and State. What is YOUR experience? Aren't you tired of increasing municipal taxes? Aren't you tired of officers who sought the elective and appointive offices of your City being paid more and more out of YOUR pockes? While it is not specifically forbidden in our City Charter for officers to raise their OWN salaries during their current term, it is certainly against the fundamental principles of America, for both the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Mississippi forbid this practice.

One-half one one percent means FIVE mills, remember, and that's a dern healthy increase. I think the Board of Mayor and Aldermen should take the citizens of Grenada into its confidence and tell them what this increase is for, and why. If imperative reasons exist for this increase, and if the increase can not be avoided by cutting expenses, the citizens of Grenada, I believe, would sit and take it; but, without explanation, I believe a petition to kill the change would be signed wholesale.

Pending receipt of adequate explanation for the increase, I implore somebody to bring me a petition to sign.

Overseas Gift Subscriptions

Home-town newspapers paid for by friends or relatives of Army personnel overseas may be dispatched as Christmas gifts without request letters as required under Order No. 1967.

The Post Office Department has relaxed its regulations only to the extent that for a period of a month—from September 15 to October 15—acceptance of these subscriptions will be permitted with a waiver on a personal letter from the soldier to the newspaper.

Therefore, The Grenada County Weekly will receive subscriptions as Christmas gifts for Army men overseas until October 15, at which time the regulation of written application by the soldier will go back into effect again.

Bigger and Tougher, Says President

President Roosevelt said, "This war will become bigger and tougher . . . during the long months ahead."

Italy has fallen—but the war is not over and you know it! Think of Berlin and Tokyo—think of the men dying at THIS moment.

Can we, you and I afford to let them down—to turn the battle front victory into a home front defeat? Let's buy MORE War Bonds than ever . . . let's back up their victory with ours—the success of the 3rd War Loan.

There are battles coming—tough, bloody hard-to-win battles—before the war is over. And it is the LAST battle that counts. We MUST back up our fighting men . . . we've got to buy War Bonds with every dollar and every dime we can scrap up.

President Roosevelt said it, as Commander-in-Chief:

I say that we Americans will not be satisfied to send our troops into the fire of the enemy with equipment only equal to that of the enemy. We are determined to provide our troops with overpowering superiority of quality and quantity of arms and armament . . .

Our fighting men will do their job—it's up to you, personally, to keep the victories safe by buying War Bonds NOW with every dollar you can—not with what you ordinarily save or invest, but more—every bit you can manage.

Grenada County Leads But . . .

In an official report concerning the sales of 3rd War Loan Bonds, as of September 15 (which report should not be confused with the actual figures to date) Mississippians have bought only about 9 million dollars worth from a quota of 53 millions.

Grenada county, we are happy to say, had on that date purchased a greater percent of its quota than any county in the State. Still, Grenada county, having stripped the cream, lacks a whole lot of reaching its goal. I note, for example, one county whose quota is $55,000.00 whose people had purchased only $1,463.00 in bonds and stamps.

Are Mississippians going to let the boys "down"? It looks so, unless accelerated buying is to be seen.

Return Land to Original Owners

Sooner or later, Camp McCain, the Grenada Army Air Base and the emergency landing field near Oxberry, will be things of the past.

Congressman Abernethy and Senator Eastland, we understand are joint sponsors of a bill which will authorize the government to give first choice to the original owners of the land in these areas when their usefulness to the government ceases. Nothing could be fairer. Many individuals of the third and fourth generation were forced from the land they loved and, certainly, when the time comes—as is will come—for the government to dispose of the land no longer needed for military purposes, such original owners should be given an opportunity to repurchase it on long terms.

Although my original home place was included in the Oxberry emergency landing field, this land had changed hands twice since I owned it, and, therefore, I would not qualify for repurchase, hence I am not speaking selfishly in this matter.

THE ANSWER IS SIMPLE

So many of our friends who know our correct name have asked why we use the name VOLLIE—here's the answer—when we became a VOLUNTEER store owner we VOLUNTEERED to do many things.

YES, WE DID

We VOLUNTEERED to operate one of the BEST FOOD STORES in North Mississippi—we VOLUNTEERED to be courteous, kind, honest, truthful and ever ready to render service—We VOLUNTEERED to never take advantage of any one just to make a few pennies—We VOLUNTEERED to keep a complete stock of foods that are available on the markets—We VOLUNTEERED to make every transaction satisfactory to every customer at all times—We VOLUNTEERED to be civic minded and play our part in whatever called upon to do—We VOLUNTEERED to do so much VOLUNTEERING that some of our intimate friends DUBBED us VOLLIE and so we have been living happily afterward ever since, so in case you are not acquainted come in now.

WE KNOW IT'S SO!

Yes, we know that like begets like and if a person feels at home and is treated courteously they will usually come back—whether you purchase a 10c package of Grits or a $10.00 order, you receive the same careful attention and your visit is appreciated. Knowing that good will is our chief asset we try to cultivate it, not just for today only, but far on down the road as the days go by.

OUR DREAM LAST NIGHT

Yes, it seemed to be Friday and we looked around the store and saw a stack of QUAKER GRITS stacked so high you could hardly reach the top, and so I thought what a nice breakfast a person could have with hot QUAKER GRITS and ham gravy—it actually made he hungry—I told MRS. VOLLIE that was one dream I was going to make come true—I told her I would get a lot of QUAKER GRITS and let the customers get the ham gravy, so watch for QUAKER GRITS Sale Friday—They sure make a fine breakfast these cool mornings—Yes, QUAKER GRITS are good with bacon gravy or butter.

ISOLATIONIST CUPID

The nuptial rumor that the Chicago Tribune's Col. Robert R. McCormick was going to wed Mrs. Helen Essary, widow of the Baltimore Sun correspondent, was told to the President recently by one of his aides.

Both Colonel McCormick and Mrs. Essary are ardent isolationists and vigorous critics of the administration. In fact the colonel is considered the leading isolationist of the Midwest, if not the nation, while the Widow Essary, writing in the Washington Times-Herald, is probably the leading lady isolationist in the nation's capital.

So the President received word of this isolationist romance with considerable interest.

"I wonder," he mused, "what their progeny will be like."

Note—Later, Mrs. Essary heard about the President's remark and telephoned one of the White House aides to find out precisely what had been said. She did not comment as to whether the rumor of matrimony were true or untrue, but she showed great feminine curiosity regarding the President's comment.

DAY VS. NIGHT BOMBING

When Churchill and Roosevelt were in Casablanca, the British prime minister had a friendly argument with U. S. air generals regarding the feasibility of daylight bombing. Churchill was against it, arguing that the British system of night bombing was much safer, did more damage to the enemy.

However, latest figures just received by the war department show that Gen. Ira Eaker was right in sticking to day bombing. These figures show that U. S. bombers have knocked out Nazi fighter planes at a rate ten times greater than the British.

Here are the figures: In July U. S. airmen destroyed 500 Axis planes, lost 108 bombers of their own. In other words we knocked out five times as many planes as we lost.

In the same months, the British knocked out 129 enemy planes, but lost 258 of their own. In other words, the British lost two planes for every one they knocked out.

The British were operating at night when they could not see the enemy so well, but also when the enemy could not see them. American planes, operating in the daylight, could better concentrate on enemy fighter planes, but also were better targets for the enemy.

INFLATION REMEDY

The President has a non-inflationary solution to organized labor's demands for wage increases to meet higher living costs: namely, non-negotiable bonds, payable after the war.

Roosevelt revealed this secret during a confidential talk with R. J. Thomas, president of the United Auto Workers union, on price rollbacks, strikes and the War Labor board's Little Steel formula. Here is the summary of his views:

Prices. Roosevelt stated that he would make a vigorous attempt to roll back prices. He told Thomas that he would prefer that congress provide the money, but that, failing this, he would use either RFC or Commodity Credit corporation funds to restore the following food prices to their September, 1942, normal: Meat, canned goods, potatoes, milk and milk products.

It would be too difficult, the President said, to attempt a rollback of clothing and personal services. He pointed out that rents already have been rolled back to March, 1941.

Little Steel Formula. Roosevelt frankly stated that he was not enthusiastic about any arbitrary ceiling on wages—15 per cent above those prevailing in January, 1941. However, he considered the Little Steel formula the best brake on wage inflation so far proposed.

Instead, the President suggested that war workers would be much better off, and that the present wage stalemate between labor unions and the WLB could be broken, if workmen agreed to accept non-negotiable bonds, payable after the war, in lieu of wage increases.

Two Million More Women Needed for War Plants; Twice That Number Ready, Says Census Survey

Must Replace Men At Lathes and Forges To Supply Armies

By ELLIOTT PINE

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Nearly two million more women must be recruited for war jobs before the end of the year, says the war manpower commission. This is as many as entered industry in all of the twelve months between March, 1942, and March, 1943. In that period 1,900,000 women took over factory work of all sorts, as well as transportation and communications tasks that used to be considered exclusively men's fields.

These two million women will have to be found, along with 800,000 older men, handicapped workers and others not now employed, if vital production is not to lag in the victory phase of the great conflict, WMC officials warn. The nation has every confidence that women will come forward to man the machines.

According to census bureau surveys, there are about four million women available and willing to work, although these potential workers have only been registered in a few large cities. There are no doubt many thousands ready to help if they knew they were needed.

Women seem to be able to do almost any work that men can. Skeptics have had to admit, time after time, that they were wrong. For many years women have been employed in light factory work, like sorting parts, packing, dipping chocolates, canning vegetables, and so on, but whoever expected to see them in roundhouses, wiping locomotives, shoveling sand, or operating huge cranes and lathes in shipyards, or doing welding? Well, women are doing all these things, and doing them well. They have had to learn to use unfamiliar tools, and new ways of thinking and acting, and they have done it in a hurry.

It's in the heavy industries that the entrance of women is most startling. Figures show that during a one-year period employment of women in munitions increased 69 per cent, 36 per cent in steel making, 50 per cent in electrical manufacturing, 62 per cent in chemicals, 164 per cent in shipbuilding, and 184 per cent in aircraft factories!

These huge increases were not in jobs generally called light. While there has been plenty of need for help in all the clerical and light factory lines, the real openings have been in the heavy mechanical trades. It stands to reason that with heavy metal construction multiplied many times by war demands, and millions of men going to war, there must be a great lack of technically trained employees. Women have been the answer in Europe and they have been the answer here. They have cheerfully gone to training schools, obeyed rigid shop discipline, worked long hours at hard and unaccustomed tasks, and earned high praise from hard-bitten executives. Despite worry about "absenteeism" in some quarters, women have not been away from their jobs unnecessarily, in most cases.

More Than 15 Million.

At the end of March, there were 15,200,000 women gainfully employed, according to Chairman McNutt of the War Manpower commission. Of these 14,100,000 were in non-agricultural work, so about a million were on farms. Of course, all these 14 million women were not strictly war workers, but most of them were doing things that were necessary, such as clerking in bakeries, or running elevators, or operating laundry machinery. It must be remembered that the civilian economy must be kept running, and that making cartridges and plane parts are not the only vital services in wartime.

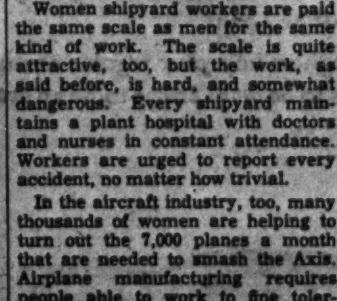
When Mrs. Winifred Tennill's husband was drafted, she took his place at this machine in a war plant in Ohio. She is shown pressing a button which started construction of the first airplane parts made in the plant.

But it is the women in heavy industry who have come forward to fill the breech, somewhat to the joyous surprise of everyone. A sample list of the work women are doing is given by Laura Nelson Baker in "Wanted: Women in Industry." She says women are "Sewing uniforms and barrage balloons, assembling radio tubes, drafting, wiring assemblies for bombers, inspecting, making gas masks, riveting, welding, operating gear cutters, lathes, grinders, drill presses and saws. These are but a few of the well-paid jobs that women are taking over from men. Often they show men up by their efficiency."

Many times women have found better ways to do the operations men have been doing for years. There have been many improvements in working conditions put in for the benefit of women that will no doubt remain when men return to the factories. Some of the changes introduced are, according to Mrs. Baker:

"Safety devices, opportunities to change posture and position, machines at the right working height, and other provisions against fatigue are now in general practice. Steel jigs too heavy for women to lift were replaced with masonite jigs weighing less than one-tenth as much. Engineers put a new lever on a spinning lathe so it could be operated with 70 per cent less exertion than before."

So women are able to do things that used to require strength and endurance, by having a few changes made. In fact, strength is becoming less and less important as machines take over the duties of muscles. Overhead cranes carry castings and other parts around from lathe to lathe, and shop trucks haul materials and tools about the huge plants. In really big factories, particularly in the aircraft industry, the workers ride about in busses.



Women with technical educations are needed in research. Catherine Ferguson, a graduate of Northwestern university, where she majored in metallurgy, is assisting in the hunt for new alloys to replace strategic metals such as nickel and aluminum. She is shown beside a furnace in the laboratories of the General Electric company at Schenectady, N. Y., reading an electric pyrometer, or high temperature thermometer.

Even with all these aids, war work is no "featherbed." In the shipbuilding yards, for instance, women do strenuous, dirty work, wearing cumberous costumes for long hours. Forty-eight-hour weeks are common, and overtime is the rule some places that have been launching ships at unbelievable rates.

Get Same Pay As Men.

Women shipyard workers are paid the same scale as men for the same kind of work. The scale is quite attractive, too, but the work, as said before, is hard, and somewhat dangerous. Every shipyard maintains a plant hospital with doctors and nurses in constant attendance. Workers are urged to report every accident, no matter how trivial.

In the aircraft industry, too, many thousands of women are helping to turn out the 7,000 planes a month that are needed to smash the Axis. Airplane manufacturing requires people able to work to fine tolerances, to be amazingly accurate, and yet speedy. In the modern plane there are hundreds of operations necessary, and women are working at most of them. Except for a few highly technical jobs, where women have not yet been able to get in the years of experience necessary, they are doing everything from drafting to test-piloting. At the present pace, women will be able to make complete airplanes without any help from men!

This is a highly paid field, with much overtime work. Most women engaged in it have taken considerable training before entering, and many have had some technical education in high school or college. There are comparatively few airplane factories, and most of these are located near big cities, as Los Angeles, Detroit, and Chicago. Because it is such an attractive field, women have gone into it eagerly, and there is not so much demand for new workers here perhaps, as in some of the less glamorous industries.

In the huge ammunition plants that have made the United States the "arsenal of democracy" women can be found in many capacities. This lady war worker is tapering shell cases for anti-tank guns at the Frankford arsenal in Philadelphia.

One of the latter is the chemical industry. Here the work is not so arduous as in the manufacture of ships or planes or tanks, but it is just as vital to the success of the war. The wage rate is not so high as in the metal working crafts and similar lines, but it is still very interesting.

Chemical workers generally need some training before starting in the plant, but high school chemistry is often sufficient background for one of the advanced positions. There is opportunity for after-war careers in this field, probably more than in most other lines.

Safety Pins Necessary, Too.

While manufacturing of planes, guns, tanks, and other weapons and equipment used directly in combat is holding the spotlight, there are thousands of other articles most important to the army and navy that are made by companies turning out their regular peacetime products. Army quartermaster corps officers say that they buy at least 18,000 articles in the open market, that is, the same goods that are made for civilian use. Women are needed to make all these things, both for servicemen and for civilians, who must live during wartime too.

Those women who are employed on farms are doing a most necessary job, of course. They should not be tempted to leave their food production to go to a factory. Food is a "munition," and is so recognized in military circles.

With all this change in the traditional role of women, however, social minded thinkers are pointing out alarming possible after-effects when the war ends. They ask whether women who have been earning high wages and have achieved a large measure of independence are going to be content to return to their homes and live on the comparatively lower standard that their husbands' income will provide? Or whether there will not be more friction than ever between married people, as wives who formerly worked at high rates become dissatisfied with the frequently drab task of maintaining a home and caring for children? Sociologists, clergymen, jurists and others interested in social welfare are perturbed about what may happen.

There is also grave concern voiced about the effects of the times on children of war workers. Mothers who are away from their children for long hours are not able to give them that care and affection that no agency can supply. Many children do not get even the inadequate supervision of playground directors, kindergartens or nurseries. The results of haphazard parental direction in formative years may be a serious matter, a few years hence.

But this is war, and war is always profoundly disturbing to the social fabric. More optimistic commentators believe that America can recover from these shocks and come out of the war with conspicuous gains. Having millions of women who can do skilled work is hardly a thing for any nation to deplore. New products will mean a higher standard of living and thereby better health and educational opportunities for all.

Mothers, sisters, aunts, nieces, sweethearts, and even grandmothers are pitching in to see that their soldiers at the fighting fronts are not endangered through lack of ammunition because of a labor shortage at home. Here are four grandmothers working at the Port Newark yard of a shipbuilding company in New Jersey. War Manpower commission officials reported that from 1942 to 1943 women workers increased 1,900,000. A like number is needed by the end of the year.

by GRANTLAND RICE

CARL HUBBELL brought out a neat point the other day. It was Carl's idea that too many good ballplayers were left in the minors too long, and often were facing baseball's middle age before they were given a big league chance.

Carl Hubbell

We'll give you a leading example along this line. The name is Roaring Rip Sewell of the Pirates, now the leading pitcher in both leagues.

Rip Sewell was born in Decatur, Ala., 35 years ago.

For the first eight years of his wanderings Sewell pitched for Nashville, Raleigh, Toronto, Beaumont, Detroit, Seattle, Toledo, Louisville and Buffalo. Rip was 30 years old before he reported to Pittsburgh, at an age of baseball servitude when most pitchers are supposed to be over the hill. Or at least facing in that general direction.

In spite of this late start Alabama Rip turned in 57 victories in four years for Pittsburgh up through 1942.

A year ago at the age of 34, Sewell won 17 games for the Pirates. Winning 17 games for the Pirates last season was no kindergarten work.

Late last winter in company with Frank Graham and Lou Little, we listened to Frank Frisch give out his sobbing notes.

The Fordham Flash that winter afternoon was in a low and melancholy state.

He was especially shy on pitchers. He admitted that Rip Sewell was smart and game, but at the age of 35, after so many pitching years, he wasn't to be compared to such men as Mort Cooper, Pollet, Vander Meer, Passeau, Riddle and many others.

But the snows of winter have given away to the blazing heat of late August.

And who is in front of the parade? A fellow by the name of Rip Sewell, the first pitcher in either league to win his 14th game, the first pitcher in either league to make it eight in a row.

As Mort Cooper of the Cardinals told me—"Rip is one of the smartest pitchers I ever saw. He can drive a nail with his control."

The Mystery

What we can't understand is why pitchers such as Carl Hubbell and Rip Sewell were allowed to drift around year after year before they were finally given a big league chance.

Carl Hubbell was a first class pitcher and a promising prospect in 1923 and it was 1928 before the Giants finally decided he might have something packed away in that left arm.

The same is true of Rip Sewell.

There are any number of ballplayers today in minor leagues who are much better than any number of big leaguers.

One answer is that after the war there should be a new distribution of big league cities. To this list you can add such places as Los Angeles, Baltimore, San Francisco and Buffalo, all major sporting centers.

The major league situation was set up many years ago before centers of population and sporting interest took a big switch.

If the present setup is continued, there is almost certain to be a third major league.

There can be a large number of changes in the general sporting situation after this war is over.

Left Handed Golfers

In this mid-summer season it is easy enough to start an argument. Especially camp arguments. The latest one that has broken out, or rather has been renewed, is whether the right hander or the left hander has a better average in sport.

There are more right handers than left handers, so the former get the jump when it comes to quantity. The quality side can stand a brief debate.

Different games have different answers. For example, no left hander that I can recall has ever won a National Open or a National Amateur golf championship.

There are and have been good left handed golfers. But so Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Byron Nelson or Ben Hogan.

No one has been able to explain this peculiar side of golf. It just happens that way. You would think that once in a while, at least, a left handed golfer would slip in and nip off a big title.

It hasn't happened yet.

Baseball is entirely different. Here the proud southpaw can hold his own in either hitting or pitching.

Marching Too Slow for Sicily Invaders

Marching is too slow for these American soldiers in Sicily so they gain speed by utilizing this foot-propelled railroad vehicle. Approximately 125,000 Axis prisoners were captured in the invasion. A report that British ships had bombarded the Italian mainland was soon followed by an announcement that German troops were evacuating Sicily.

Soybeans Benefit By Crop Rotation

Beans Use Chemicals Remaining in Soil

Since soybeans have assumed such an important place in the family of war crops, the condition of the soil on which they are produced is a matter of importance to the farmer.

George H. Enfield, of the agronomy department of Purdue university pointed out that while soybeans need a plentiful ration of plant foods in order to produce maximum yields for Uncle Sam's war requirements, their diet can be adequately filled by "eating at the second table" if the soil's fertility level is high.

"'Eating at the second table,'" Mr. Enfield explained, "means that soybeans respond to the hold-over fertility placed in the soil by previous crops in the rotation. Long-time fertility tests have demonstrated repeatedly that yields have been increased, on the average, from 3.2 to 10.6 bushels per acre because of this sound practice."

In view of the essential value of soybean products to agriculture and war industries, Mr. Enfield said, the fertility level of the soil that produces the crop is of prime importance. "Every farmer has noticed that beans will produce larger yields on fertile than on infertile soils," he added.

In three-year soybean growing tests on fertile land at the Purdue soils and crops farm, he said, increase from applying fertilizer with an attachment to a corn planter for row-seeded beans was about 70 per cent greater than when the same treatment was applied with the wheat drill and the beans seeded solid.

"The tests revealed that the unfertilized crop averaged 27.8 bushels of soybeans per acre," Mr. Enfield explained. "Applying 100 pounds of 0-20-20 with the fertilizer attachment to the corn planter at seeding time increased the yield 3.3 bushels per acre."

Advantages of "plow-down" methods of fertilization were likewise described by Mr. Enfield. "In dry seasons," he said, "if the fertilizer is placed near the surface it is in dry soil and out of the reach of feeding roots. However, if the fertilizer is placed deeper, the roots can get it out of the moist soil. In wet seasons, fertilizer placed near the surface encourages weed growth. Results from one experiment showed that the weed competition was so severe where 666 pounds of 0-12-12 analysis was applied to the surface of the soil and disced in, that the yield was decreased 1.6 bushels per acre. The same treatment plowed under greatly increased the yield."

Mr. Enfield declared that soybeans apparently are very sensitive to potash deficiency. The results of demonstrations showed that potash-starved soybeans did not mature naturally. The leaves would start to die before the beans were completely filled and the test weight was lowered. In all cases of potash-starvation the percentage of damaged beans was unusually high.

Pressure-cooker canning is safer than is the hot water bath method because it is the only method whereby the heat-resistant spores that cause canned foods to spoil can be killed. These spores are found in meat, fish, and poultry, and in all vegetables except tomatoes, pimientoes, peppers and rhubarb.

The following resolution was introduced, its adoption moved and seconded and put to a vote. Aldermen Boone, Moss, Horn, Lilly, Burt and Deaton voting for its passage and there being no vote against same it was declared duly adopted and ordered entered on the Minutes as follows:

A resolution declaring the intention of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Grenada, Mississippi to issue bonds of said City to the amount of not exceeding $25,000.00 for the purpose of extending the water and sewer system, pipes, lines, etc. of said City as the Board may determine, etc.

Resolved by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Grenada, Mississippi:

Sec. 1. That it is and is hereby declared to be the intention of this Board to issue at its meeting to be held at the City Hall in said City at 5:00 p. m. o'clock on September 24th, 1943 bonds of said City to the amount of not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars for the purpose of extending the water and sewer system, pipes, lines etc. of said City as the Board may determine.

Sec. 2. Said bonds, if issued, will be issued in strict compliance with the law in all respects and will bear interest payable semi-annually, at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds, if issued, will not be used for any other purpose than the purpose herein set forth.

Sec. 3. Said bonds will not, however, be issued if twenty percent of the qualified electors of this City file a written protest against such issuance on or before the date of said meeting for the issuance thereof aforesaid unless the issuance thereof shall be authorized by the electors of said City at an election for that purpose as provided by law, the Board hereby adjudicating that this City is a municipality of less than twelve thousand inhabitants.

Sec. 4. That this resolution, for cause, take effect and be in force from and after passage and be published as provided by law for three weeks in a qualified newspaper published in this City.

Attest: W. Y. West, City Recorder.
Approved: L. C. Proby, Mayor.
